LANGUAGE REVIEW

Talking about the future

We can use different language forms to talk about the future.

- We use going to to talk about what we intend to do and have already decided to do.
My colleague and I are going to attend our Chairman's wedding in Seattle next month.
Some airlines are going to increase fuel surcharges this week.
- We use will or 'll to talk about something we have decided to do at the time of speaking.
The deal's off. I'll call the travel agent to cancel the flights.
- We use the present continuous to talk about a fixed arrangement.
I'm travelling from Australia to Europe in September.
- We use the present simple to talk about a timetable or programme.
The flight leaves Ho Chi Minh City at 11:30 on Tuesday. It arrives in Danang at 12:40.
